

Amy Goldman

Heirloom Vegetable Conservation: Saving Melons, Squashes and other Cucurbits

Ms. Goldman is a board member of the Seed Savers Exchange and active with the Culinary Institute of America. She is author of the best selling garden and food book "Melons: An Heirloom Gallery".
Squash soup will be served.

Lecture is free and open to the public,
Located in the Henry Hooper Conference Room in Hanley Hall, building 7 on NAU's North Campus.
If you have any questions please call Naima Taylor, 523-0664 or email Naima.Taylor@nau.edu.

www.environment.nau.edu